Workers' Compensation Fraud

Definition: Workers' Compensation fraud laws make it a felony for anyone to file a false or fraudulent statement or to submit a false report or any other document for the purpose of obtaining or denying Workers' Compensation benefits. Anyone caught performing these illegal acts will be prosecuted. If convicted, the person can face up to 5 years in prison and/ or up to a $150,000 fine.

Statement

In an effort to keep our workers' compensation program fair for all, we must guard against fraud. Filing a Workers' Compensation claim means you were injured on the job and not elsewhere. This means you have no doubt that your injury occurred on the job.

Furthermore, you are required by California State Law to provide the true facts. Information that is false, inaccurate, withheld or exaggerated could constitute Workers' Compensation fraud.

Each filed claim is reviewed and may be fully investigated. If any of the facts are found to be false, inaccurate, withheld or exaggerated, disciplinary action including termination will be taken. Legal action may also be taken. We bring these matters to your attention because Workers' Compensation fraud is against the law.

I have read the statement above and understand that Workers' Compensation fraud is against the law.
